

Klamath Bird Observatory

Advancing Bird & Habitat Conservation through Science, Education, & Partnerships

Please Become a 2019 KBO Education Sponsor!

Klamath Bird Observatory recognizes that conservation occurs across many fronts and therefore we offer education programs that nurture a conservation ethic in our communities.

- Professional education — Building generations of conservation practitioners by providing technical skill development and leadership through internships, workshops, and international capacity building.
- Community education — Providing unique and diverse learning opportunities that foster an appreciation for birds and an interest in science-based bird and habitat conservation.

Sponsorship Levels

Wisdom Funders $5,000+

The Wisdom Funding Level honors the oldest confirmed wild bird in the world. She is a Laysan Albatross, she is at least 68 years old, and she is still laying eggs at the Midway Atoll Wildlife Refuge where she was first tagged in 1956.

Wisdom Funders support KBO's international internship program:
this professional education program is building a community of conservationists for the future.
Wisdom funders also receive the same benefits as Great Gray Owl Sponsors.

Great Gray Owl	$2,500+	Special acknowledgement during community education events	Recognized with large logo on education event materials	Recognized with large logo and link on education webpages
White-headed Woodpecker	$1,000+		Recognized with large logo on education event materials	Recognized with large logo and link on education webpages
Mountain Quail	$500+			Recognized with small logo and link on education webpages

Why Support Bird Education?

Birds are the indicators of our wellbeing. As such, our education programs foster a community that protects the natural and economic resources that are essential to both birds and people.

Birding Means Business — Birdwatchers spend $36 billion annually in pursuit of their hobby. In doing so, they enrich the economies of the bird-friendly places they visit. Along with their binoculars, birders bring their pocket books to spend money on food, lodging, entertainment, gifts, and services.

KBO is a 501(c) non-profit organization (Tax ID # 93-1297400). Sponsorships are tax deductible.

Klamath Bird Observatory P.O. Box 758 Ashland, OR 97520 (541)201-0866
Admin@KlamathBird.org www.KlamathBird.org